

ATTENTION: GROUP ADMINISTRATORS IMPORTANT NOTICE | August 19, 2021

SEASONAL FLU SHOTS

With COVID-19 around, keeping your employees healthy is vital.

Help protect your employees by encouraging them to get vaccinated during this flu season.

With so much attention focused on coronavirus, many people have postponed routine healthcare appointments. In some cases, people stayed away from the doctor because they were worried about catching COVID-19. While that's understandable, remember that avoiding medical care also comes with some risks.

We want your employees to be safe during the Hawaii COVID-19 emergency period while pharmacies administer flu vaccinations. Here are some measures that we can all take to ensure everyone's safety:

- Provide a space to administer vaccinations with enough room for employees to be six feet apart.
- Have your employees wear masks and keep six feet apart.
- Have your employees fill out any required paperwork prior to their appointment.
- Ask participating pharmacies for more details about safety precautions.

By getting vaccinated you can help protect yourself and your loved ones during flu season. People with seasonal influenza will exhibit similar signs and symptoms as COVID-19 (fever and cough). Getting more people protected against influenza will reduce confusion and the burden on our local healthcare system along with protecting those who are most at risk for serious flu complications.
